PATHOLOGY

"Your local Laboratory with national resources, serving our community"

Webster

Webster is our web-based application designed to address your pathology requirements. Including providing your practice with patient and results data lists utilising Excel or Open Office.

This product will evolve rapidly over the coming months as we bring further practical and original features on-line – all without installing any software on your computer(s).

We have concentrated on making your reports available in ways that will reflect your work practices. This initial version provides a comprehensive range of tools to assist you in the interpretation, management and communication of your reports.
